Coaches from all over the country who were snubbed by the NCAA selection committee screamed and yelled about the decision to allow Boston College to go to the Midwest Regional. Boston had compiled only a 19-9 record and didn't even make it to their conference tournament final. Well, all those doubters are speaking more softly now because the Eagles are just one victory away from the Final Four. Dr. Tom Davis' squad has beaten three successive top twenty teams by playing sound, aggressive defense; making the critical free throws; and never losing their poise when they get behind. Houston has been splendid as well, defeating two of the top-ranked teams in the nation, Missouri and Tulsa, in their last two games. Look for a fast-paced, well played game, and expect BC to win.

pared to Tuskegee's lowly 36.1. Surprisingly, the losers showed a 55-38 domination of the boards.

"California is definitely No. 1," conceded Tuskegee coach Tiny Laster. "They're an outstanding ball club . . . they broke our press very easily and we got intimidated inside. They made us hurry out shots.

"I thought we had a chance early in the game but we were missing good shots — maybe we were too anxious.

"But I can't be too disappointed with this team. Being No. 2 is not too bad. We'll just have to try harder."

In the battle for third place, Mount St. Mary's took a 13-point lead at halftime and held on for a convincing 73-62 victory over Oakland of Rochester, Mich.

Kelly Roche topped the winners (24-5) with 21 points, followed by Margaret Diaz with 19 and Becky Lovett with 17.

Lovett and Brenda McLean of Oakland were the other All-Tourney members.

McLean fired 23 points and Linda Krawford 20 for 27-5 Oakland. "It was a good win and we want to be back next year," said Mount St. Mary's coach Bill Sheahan.
