BELFAST — The rain was cold and bitter at 35 degrees Fahrenheit on the morning of March 30, but the 100-plus runners, walkers and supporters braved the much-less-than-perfect weather to help raise money to fight breast cancer.

Mother Nature was not going to stop these brave and hearty souls. As they navigated throughout the streets of Belfast, following a start at the high school, they circled back through the loop and back up Waldo Avenue, where they ended back at the entrance to the high school. The first person across the finish line was Matthew Revitt with a time of 19:40. The first female across the finish line was Belfast Area High School graduate Caitlin Cross, who finished third overall at 20:45.

This fun family event was a fundraiser for the Avon Walk for Breast Cancer team, Holy Walkamoles. The Holy Walkamoles are a group of women who are 'in it to end it' and dedicated to the fight of breast cancer. Over the last three years they have raised nearly $30,000 and the TaTa Trot 5K is just ways the group does that each year. All money raised by the Avon Walk for Breast Cancer is managed by the Avon Foundation, a nonprofit public charity that funds a comprehensive network of programs and services dedicated to serving breast cancer patients and their families through five areas of the breast cancer cause: awareness and education, screening and diagnosis, access to treatment, support services, and scientific research.
